We do not collect any personal data from visitors browsing our website, although personal information may be requested via the website if a visitor chooses to contact us asks for demo or apply for any of the jobs posted on our website.

We can collect information from visitors that is not linked to an identifiable individual. Examples include the Internet browser of the visitor, the type of operating system, and other information to help us to improve the flow and interconnectivity of our site.

Web browser cookies

Our Site may use “cookies” to enhance User experience. User’s web browser places cookies on their hard drive for record-keeping purposes and sometimes to track information about them. User may choose to set their web browser to refuse cookies, or to alert you when cookies are being sent. If they do so, note that some parts of the Site may not function properly.

3. With whom and where will we share your personal data?

We do not sell, trade, or rent Users personal identification information to others. We may share generic aggregated demographic information not linked to any personal identification information regarding visitors and users with our business partners, trusted affiliates and advertisers for the purposes outlined above.

We share your personal data with the below third parties:

- marketing and communications agencies where they have agreed to process your personal data in line with this Privacy Notice;
- search engine and web analytics.

Such third parties include, but are not limited to, providers of website hosting, maintenance, customer support and identity checking.

In the event that our business or any part of it is sold or integrated with another business, your details will be disclosed to our advisers and those of any prospective purchaser and will be passed to the new owners of the business.

We reserve the right to disclose your personal information when we believe release is appropriate to comply with a legal obligation or legal process; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of CarPro, our employees, our users, or others.

By submitting any information to us, you agree to the storage and processing of data which may be outside the EU and EEA countries. European residents should note the data protection laws in countries outside the European Union and other countries, may not offer an equal level of data protection that is available under the laws of your country, including in the European Union. CarPro will take reasonable measures to ensure an adequate level of protection of the personal data in its possession, as described more fully below. You expressly consent to such cross-border disclosure, but only for a purpose directly connected with the services we provide or for a purpose permitted by this privacy policy.

4. How long will you keep my personal data?

We will not keep your personal information for any purpose for longer than is necessary and will only retain the personal information that is necessary in relation to the purpose. You have the option to withdraw the consent and even ask for deletion of data by clicking the relevant links on the website.

In the case of any contact you may have with our customer services team, we will retain those details for as long as is necessary to resolve your query and for two weeks after the query is closed.

We will retain your data for a short time beyond the specified retention period, to allow for information to be reviewed and any deletion to take place.

5. Where is my data stored?

The personal data that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored outside the European Economic Area (“EEA”). It may also be processed by staff operating outside the EEA who work for us or for one of our suppliers, in which case the third country's data protection laws will have been approved as adequate by the European Commission or other applicable safeguards are in place.

6. How we protect your information?

We have implemented necessary technical and organizational measures to maintain the security of personal data and avoid their alteration, loss and unauthorized processing and access. These measures consider the state of art, the characteristics of the stored data and the risks to which they are exposed, whether they come from human action, from the digital, physical, or natural environment, as established by internal policies and procedures and by law and regulation.

We have also implemented additional security measures to reinforce the confidentiality and integrity of the information and maintains supervision, control, and evaluation of the processes to ensure the privacy of personal data.

Our employees who may have access to personal data on behalf of CarPro are made aware of the importance of keeping it confidential. CarPro internal procedures in complying with our policies oversee the adherence to our policies and report findings in a timely manner.

7. What are my rights in relation to my personal data?

You have the right to ask us not to process your personal data for marketing purposes. You can exercise your right to prevent such processing by checking certain boxes on the forms we use to collect your data, clicking the unsubscribe button on any communication, like newsletter, we have sent to you or by contacting us.

Where you have consented to us using your personal data, you can withdraw that consent at any time.

If the information we hold about you is inaccurate or incomplete, you can notify us and ask us to correct or supplement it.

You also have the right, with some exceptions and qualifications, to ask us to provide a copy of any personal data we hold about you.

Where you have provided your data to us and it is processed by automated means, you may be able to request that we provide it to you in a structured, machine readable format.

If you have a complaint about how we have handled your personal data, you may be able to ask us to restrict how we use your personal data while your complaint is resolved. In some circumstances you can ask us to erase your personal data (a) by withdrawing your consent for us to use it; (b) if it is no longer necessary for us to use your personal data; (c) if you object to the use of your personal data and we don't have a good reason to continue to use it; or (d) if we haven't handled your personal data in accordance with our obligations.
